Profile

- Rachael worked in the NHS for 12 years. During this time she gained experience with orthopaedics, spinal injuries, respiratory and surgical patients, musculoskeletal and neurological conditions.
- As a specialist physiotherapist she worked both in the community and in the hospital with clients diagnosed with neurological conditions and clients with complex needs looking at home adaptations, therapy interventions and case management.
- More recently Rachael had the opportunity to work in the Middle East in an integrated medical centre continuing her involvement with the rehabilitation and management of clients with neurological conditions.
- She has a wealth of experience in the rehabilitation field. She has worked with clients with complex needs and has continued to ensure she has maintained her skills allowing treatment for complex neurological conditions.

Testimonial

"I feel fortunate to have the opportunity to work with individuals ensuring that they have the chance to engage in the most appropriate rehabilitation ensuring the best possible outcome. Through working as a physiotherapist and studying psychology I have a thorough understanding of the interplay between physical and psychological conditions allowing me to have a mindful approach to case management."
