Profile

- Rachel qualified as a Physiotherapist in June 2006. She has significant case management experience in the management of complex multi trauma injuries.
- Her experience spans musculoskeletal injury, orthopaedics, poly trauma and neurology rehabilitation. Rachel is very experienced at assessing her client's needs at home, in the work place and in accessing the community. Rachel has extensive experience in referring to, working with and liaising with specialists, general practitioners, nurses, physiotherapists, occupational therapists, speech and language, social services to ensure the best outcomes are achieved for her clients. She will attend medical appointments, hospital discharge planning appointments and oversee complex treatment care plans.
- Rachel is experienced in occupational health and vocational rehabilitation. She is highly skilled in the completion of functional capacity evaluations and work site assessments. Rachel will work closely with her client, their employer, employment advisors, occupational health, human resources and other relevant stakeholders to achieve the best vocational outcome for her clients. She will develop return to work programmes and over see these to ensure optimal progress.
- Rachel has excellent knowledge of personal independent payment assessments (PIP), having worked as an assessor. She also understands the benefits system and support available.
