Profile

- Jo qualified as an occupational therapist in 2004. She spent the first 5 years of her career providing rehabilitation case management in Australia for one of it's leading providers. She acquired well-developed case management skills as a result and gained experience performing functional capacity evaluations.
- After relocating to the UK, Jo has worked in clinical roles within the NHS, social services and private companies including community rehabilitation, reablement, wheelchair prescription and community occupational therapy involving provision of specialist equipment and housing adaptations. Jo has developed strong assessment skills in activities of daily living and a wide product knowledge in equipment prescription.
- Jo has extensive experience in provision of work site assessments and ergonomic assessments both in Australia and whilst working for one of the UK's larger hospitals.

Testimonial

"I enjoy being able to contribute to improving the health and wellbeing of individuals who have been through a difficult point in their lives. Being able to provide individuals with the opportunity to engage in clinically appropriate rehabilitation to help them return to work and as near as possible to pre-accident functioning is very rewarding."
